

ABSTRACT

Provided is a method of reducing excess residual process solvents, especially excess residual process alcohol (e.g. isopropanol), in valacyclovir hydrochloride to about 1000 ppm (weight) or less by contacting valacyclovir hydrochloride having excess
5 residual process alcohol with moist gas.